A cowardly, but fortusutely unsuccessful attempt, was made last evening to assassinate Timothy Burke, of the firm of Burke Bros., extensive contrac tors Authory Ferrer was the would be murderer.

Mr. Burks was standing on the rear platform of a Dunmore Suburban electric car at Washington avenue and Spruce street, when Ferrer drew a 32calibre revolver and fired four shots

One of them entered Mr. Burke's right hand at the knuckle of the little finger and lodged in the knuckle of the second finger, shattering it. Another bullet struck Deputy Sheriff Humphrey Bradley on the right hip, causing a painful flesh wound, Joseph Chapman, of Green Ridge, was also shot in the hip and a flesh wound inflicted. After firing the fourth shot Ferrer ran down Washington avenue pursued by many persons. He was overtaken after passing

Lackawanna avenue and turned over to a police officer, by whom he was taken to the city hall and locked up in cell 10. He will be given a hearing before about 30 years of age, unmarried, and has been in this country for the past three years, and has a fair command of the English language. He is a native of Italy and apparently a man of nervous, impulsive temperament. His home is at Moosic. Soon after coming to this country he obtained employment with Burks Bros, as a rock hand, and has labored for them almost continuously ever

The would-be murderer is a man

He was considered a very competent and reliable workman and was paid

$1.50 per day. About Christmas Burke Brothers finished up the class of work on which men like Ferrer could be used to advantage and with a number of other men he was suspended until such time as the firm would again have work for them.

A few days ago the firm obtained a contract for building a few miles of railload near Wilkes Barre, and as this fact became current among their suspended workmen they called at the office of the firm in the Barr building, and some of them were told to report a week hence and they would be given employment.

FERRER MAKES A CALL.

About 5 o'clock last evening Ferrer called at the office to find out when he could, resume work. He was slightly under the influence of liquor and was told that they could not tell him when he could have employment. He did not receive the intelligence very cheerfully, but remained about the office for some time talking and joking with the clerks At 5 50 he left the office and ten minutes later was followed by Timothy Burke and Civil Eugineer Kupp.

Ferrer was standing in the doorway of the building and as he saw the men approach he began to load his double action 32-calibre revolver, though neither of the men observed the action.

As they brushed by the Italian several cartridges dropped, but Mr. Burke thought they were peanuts and said:

'Look out Tony, you're dropping you're peanuls." "Alla right, me picka dem up," replied the wily Italian, and Mr. Burke

DE GAMA'S POSITION IS CRITICAL

His Forces Are Without Fresh Water and Five Torpedo Boats Will Soon Confront Him.

Washington, Jan. 16 -The admission of Admiral Da Gama contained in the dispatches from Rio Janeiro publish-6 ed this morning regarding the possible length of time which the insurgents in the bay of Rio can hold out under existing conditions, are confirmed by advices received in Washington. These advices state that Da Gama's position is more critical than he admits. His forces are with

It is conceded that if the insurgents gained a footbool in Nichteroy their position would be greatly improved, but the probability of their affecting a landing becomes more remote every day. Conclusion Reached After Discussion by the Senate Finance Committee.

FULL AUTHORITY EXISTS BY LAW

Whatever Deficiency in the Revenues May Exist During the Current Fiscal Year, Will Be Promptly Provided for by Appropriate and Efficient Legislation at the Earliest Practicable Moment, Declares Mr. Voorhees.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. ONSIDERABLE headway appears to have been made at the afternoon meeting of the senate finance committee, which was largely attended, and lasted for more than an hour. Mr. Carlisle's letter was again discussed, and while no conclusion was reached by direct vote, it appeared to be the sense of the committee-manifested by an absence of opposition-that the best thing to be done for the immediate relief of the treasury was to make the gold reserve intact, leaving the question of meeting the deficit in revenues open for further consideration.

After the meeting adjourned Senator Voorhees, chairman of the committe, gave to a United Press reporter the statement subjoined. In making it he said he did not assume to represent the views of the entire committee, but still he knew of no opposition in the committee to the opinions expressed. This was evident from the fact that the statement was read to the full committee by Mr. Voorhees before he made it public.

THE CONCLUSION REACHED. While Mr. Voorhees' statement sets forth the fact tersely the question of opening up the entire field of financial debate was discussed at length by the committee and the conclusion was reached that if at this time a new bill was sought to be introduced the treasury patient would collapse utterly while the legislative doctors were wrangling over the maddine they should prescribe. The situation is thus set forth by Mr. Voorhees: "The embarrassed condition of the treasury and the necessity for prompt action for its relief are fully realized There is not the slightest ground, however, for apprehension that the public credit will suffer, or be endangered, for the reason that ample authority already exists by law for the secretary of the treasury to strengthen his coin reserve to any extent required and to meet every demand that can Ine siege of Bage by the insurgent forces has been raised. After the rebels had resisted for eighteen days the serties of the government tracks. serties of the government troops, who sirable object to be attained by new legislation at this time on that subject is to make a shorter time bond with a lower rate of interest, and yet the secretary feels assured that he can negotiate bonds issued under the act of 1875

"It seems, therefore, that it will be wiser, safer and better for the financial and business interests of the country to rely upon an existing law with which to meet the present emergency rather than to encounter the delays at close quarters. Eventually the ships and uncertainties always incident to were repulsed with heavy loss. The protracted discussion in the two protracted discussion in the two houses of congress. This view of the subject is rendered more imperative by the fact that the condition of the treasury admits of little, if any, delay, and of no uncertainty at all in the final action to be taken,

NEW LEGISLATION UNDESIRABLE. "It would be trifling with a very grave affair to pretend that new legis lation on coining the issue of bonds can be accomplished at this time, and in the midst of present elements and paries in public life, without elaborate, extensive and practically indefinite de-bate. It is also obvious to everyone that the consideration and discussion of the tariff now going on in congress will render any financial legislation at this time far more difficult and complicated that it might be under other and different circumstances.

"It is proper to say in this connection that the senate finance committee for several weeks past has had this subject under almost constant consideration and that the bill submitted by Mr. Carlisle has been examined and discussed with the greatest care. The interest of the committee will by no means be abated from this time forward. The fact that much remains to be done is fully recognized. Whatever deficiency in the revenues may exist during the current fiscal year, will be promptly provided for by appropriate and efficient legislation at the earliest practicable moment,"
